Transportation Access

Providing access to and from critical services for those in need

Many low-income individuals and families in our community have no available resources to access needed transportation for medical appointments, physical therapy, finding or maintaining a job, or escaping from a threatening situation.

Access to transportation becomes a key component in the lives of these individuals and families. Many friends and neighbors find themselves at risk as the result of poor health, limited resources, or a domestic abuse situation.

In 2007, 5,965 individual rides were given to 792 clients, an increase of 3% in clients served as compared to 2006.

Transportation Access is an excellent example of a Community Impact initiative in which the community has come together to address a critical issue. It is a collaborative of numerous organizations in Waukesha County including long-time United Way partners, local government, non-profits, businesses and foundations.

Transportation Access is improving the lives of individuals and families in our community.

Results:

- 99% of clients receiving transit services accessed services relating to their need such as employment and medical assistance.
- 99% of individuals receiving transportation services maintained or improved their health.
